

Q: Can you integrate Titanium with a crypto POS network such as Pundi X Sign up
(npxs) to accept TBAR? (/trending/cryptocurrency) (<https://signup.steemit.com/>)

A: We cannot answer that question without NDAs being signed between Titanium and Pundi X, as we would need to do a deep-dive on the technology to have an intelligent answer to the query.

- Michael Stollaire, Chief Executive Officer

Q: When will Ingots be implemented?

A: Ingots as well as Masternodes are being developed as part of our blockchain mainnet which is on track for Q1 2019 release.

- Daniel Berezcki, Chief Technology Officer

Q: Will you release a demo of the Alpha to the public?

A: Our Alpha product is on schedule to be completed this month. This product is our proof of concept and the building block for our Beta product which we will make ready for private invitation and begin to show. Our open public Beta of our IaaS will be when our PaaS product comes out at the end of this year.

- Richard Silver, Chief Operating Officer

Q: What is Ms. Yeong, as the South Korean liaison, doing to help in the expansion into the South Korean market?

A: At the moment I am looking for candidates who can translate our whitepaper into Korean and getting our token listed on the largest Korean exchanges. Lastly, I am sourcing Korean crypto influencers to help get the word out.

Q: Do you guys have a plan on how future clients from bluechip companies can acquire TBAR utility tokens to pay for services? Surely being listed on super credible exchange platforms is a must?

A: Of course this is true, and we are always diligently working on that objective. With that said, the current exchanges are filled with issues and problems, and IMO, are succeeding despite themselves and their technology. That's why Titanium continues to lead in the Blockchain Space by providing products that we are quite confident are superior and will appeal much more to the market. Throw in our mantra of good is not good enough and it must be excellent, along with impeccable customer service, and we will race to the top of the heap.

Q: Are you going to implement the new open-source W3C Interledger protocol standard in your TBAR product ecosystem?

A: Digital wallets are obviously getting a lot more popular. We aren't going to be locking users into any one method of using services or products. Our IaaS will allow for users to make these choices on their own.

- Richard Silver, Chief Operating Officer

Q: Are you going to make a company policy of the type of content you will and will not host?

A: Yes, along with many more standard operating procedures (SOPs).

- Michael Stollaire, Chief Executive Officer

Q: Since you will offer IaaS and VPS at your product/service catalog, could you elaborate if the VPS required for a masternode can be hosted from within your ecosystem, or will an External VPS be required?

A: Masternodes will run on a TBIS hosted VPS within our ecosystem, an external VPS is not required to run a masternode.

- Daniel Berezcki, Chief Technology Officer

Q: Can you give us some ideas, how we, the community could help TBIS to grow and to spread the word?

A: We love the enthusiasm in this question! You can help spread the word by sharing our posts on Facebook and Twitter, invite friends to join us in Telegram Official chat or Instagram, and send them a copy of TBIS Weekly on Steemit. We also have several other options online including Bitcoin Talk as a forum to spread the word about Titanium and our partners, POMA, BitcoinToken. Soon our merchandise shop will be open and you can sport some Titanium swag as well as send some to your friend!

- Monte Cristo, Community Manager

Q: What actions are you taking to stop trading of the old BAR Tokens. It remains confusing to new investors and also draws attention from TBAR.

A: One of our first actions after discovering that BAR tokens had been stolen, on February 21st, was to ask all exchanges to d-list BAR. This was done on the day of the hack. Most complied immediately and we continue to work on d-listing BAR with the only remaining exchange currently listing BAR token. Coinmarket cap is also a great example of steps that we have taken to halt BAR token trading,
